Eligible applicants include nonprofits in DC. The deadline for applications is September 15, 2003. Average grant amounts are in the $4,000-$6,000 range. For more information, go to: <http://www.gannettfoundation.org/dcfactsheet.htm>.

Social Change. The Unitarian Universalist's Fund for a Just Society supports groups that organize to bring about systemic change leading to a more just society, work with those who have been disenfranchised, and inspire generosity among Unitarian members and member congregations. Priority is given to groups of people organizing to create change in the economic, social, and political structures that affect their lives. Projects are welcome that are less likely to receive conventional funding because of the innovative or challenging nature of the work or the economic and social status of the constituency. Eligible applicants include nonprofit organizations. The deadline for applications is September 15, 2003. The maximum grant is $10,000, and most grants are between $5,000-$7,000. For more information, go to: http://dev.uua.org/uufp/fund\_justsociety.html.

Resources & Announcements

Effective Fundraising. Washington Grantmakers is unveiling two new products for local nonprofits to make fundraising more effective. Last fall, Washington Grantmakers commissioned custom research for their annual report on giving in the region. This data provides, for the first time, detailed information about local grants. This valuable grant information is being released in two exciting new products:

- A print directory featuring the Top 100 Foundations in the Washington Region with grant information (this represents approximately 85% of the total giving in the region).
- An online searchable database featuring ALL of the region's foundations with full grant information.

More information on these grantseeker resources is available at www.washingtongrantmakers.org.

Washington Grantmakers is hosting a special seminar for nonprofits and funders to learn more about these two new fundraising resources at The World Bank from 9:30am - 11:00am on July 8th. To register online, go to www.washingtongrantmakers.org/WG/Programs/Registration and click on "Fundraising Resources for Region's Nonprofits."

Evaluating Education Reform. Harvard Family Research Project's evaluation periodical, The Evaluation Exchange, addresses current issues facing program evaluators of all levels. Designed as an ongoing discussion among evaluators, program practitioners, funders, and policymakers, it highlights innovative methods and approaches to evaluation, emerging trends in evaluation practice, and practical applications of evaluation theory. The Summer 2003 Issue topic is Evaluating Education Reform. To access this free publication, go to: <http://www.gse.harvard.edu/hfrp/eval.html>.

Free Facilities for Youth Enrichment Activities. The DC Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR) announces a Request for Programs for organizations interested in using DPR facilities free of charge for enrichment programs designed to expand youth learning opportunities and to support their cognitive, social, emotional, physical and moral development. Free space in recreational facilities will be available from October 1, 2003 to September 30, 2004. Eligible applicants include nonprofit organizations with demonstrated track records of program implementation and measurable outcomes. The deadline for applications is July 11, 2003. For more information, contact Sherry C. Deane at (202) 282-0729. To access the application, go to: www.dpr.dc.gov and select "Request for Programs Application."

Grants Information Resource Center (GIRC).

The Office of Partnerships and Grants Development (OPGD) provides assistance to nonprofit and government representatives through a resource center at One Judiciary Square, 441 4th Street, NW, Suite 200 South. The GIRC provides technical assistance that connects DC Government agencies, nonprofit and faith-based organizations to information about resources that improve community services in the city. The primary focus of the GIRC is to assist emerging and small nonprofits that either lack computer access or the knowledge to best use their existing computer technology to identify grant, capacity building, and other related resource information online. Featured in the GIRC are four workstations with funding research databases and access to the Internet. The Center also has a small library of printed materials. Access to the GIRC is free of charge but does require an appointment. Call (202) 727-8900 to schedule an appointment.

Housing and Community Development. The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) provides the HUD USER Database, the only bibliographic database exclusively dedicated to housing and community development issues. It contains more than 10,000 full-abstract citations to research reports, articles, books, monographs, and data sources in housing policy, building technology, economic development, urban planning, and a host of other relevant fields. To access this database, go to: <http://www.huduser.org/bibliodb/pdrbibdb.html>.

Juvenile Justice. The Department of Justice (DOJ)/Office of Justice Programs (OJP)/Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) announces the publication of a comprehensive, easy-to-use guide to information available from OJJDP - Latest Resources From OJJDP. This free publication includes an overview of the kinds of publications and other information products OJJDP makes available, an annotated listing (arranged by topic) of all publications issued during 2001 and 2002, and a list of all titles published to date in OJJDP's many special bulletin series. It also presents other types of information available from OJJDP, including the JUVJUST listserv and the bimonthly newsletter OJJDP News @ a Glance. For more information about this publication, go to: <http://ojjdp.ncjrs.org/pubs/new.html>.

Supplemental Educational Services Workshop.

The U.S. Department of Education's Center for Faith-Based and Community Initiatives will host a free workshop to assist faith-based and community organizations in applying to become approved providers of extra academic help for disadvantaged students (Supplemental Educational Services). The workshop will be held on Saturday, July 26, 2003, from 1-4pm, at First Baptist Church of Glenarden, 3600 Brightseat Road, Landover, MD. Pre-registration is required by July 23, 2003, and space is limited. Due to space limitations, no more than two individuals per organization may attend. To register, call (202) 219-1746 or 1-800-USA-LEARN to have a form faxed to you.

Funding Alert is a free service of the Office of Partnerships and Grants Development in the Executive Office of Mayor.
